- Celebrated the Workers’ Compensation and Unemployment Compensation pools’ 45th Anniversary.

- Provided cyber coverage by working closely with members to improve their security.
- Partnered with ESIS to provide Claims and Breach services, if needed.
- Created a new monthly periodical – RMS Express – allowing for increased member outreach and communication of time sensitive information.
- Finalized the Workers Compensation Board (WCB) audit with limited penalties.
In 2024 MMA will focus its attention on implementing five policy priorities endorsed by the Association’s Executive Committee, including:

- Implementation of the Serve Strong program designed to provide targeted mental health services to first responders.
- Recruitment of retiring senior staff replacements and subsequent retention efforts.
- Respond to member demands through the implementation of self-service tools and the streamlining of back-office operations to better support interactions with our members.
- Maintenance of an aging building.
- Continued implementation of member engagement programs and opportunities.

Serve Strong Program. At its September 2023 goal planning meeting, MMA’s 12-member Executive Committee elected to make first responder mental health a top priority in 2024 by directing MMA to implement the Serve Strong program. The initiative, which is being offered to municipal associations via a collaboration between the National League of Cities’ Risk Information Sharing Consortium and Alliant Insurance Services, is designed to provide first responders access to web-based mental health services offered by providers familiar with the stresses and trauma experienced by members of the law enforcement, firefighter, emergency medical services, dispatcher, and correctional communities. In summary the program, which is scheduled to launch in March, provides 24/7 access to a web-based health assessment platform and accompanying tele-therapy services designed to work together to allow first responders to seek support for their most pressing challenges.

Retirements and Recruitments. In the first six months of 2024, MMA will address the challenges associated with the retirements of two senior staff members, Sarah Ledoux, Chief Financial Officer and David Barrett, Director of Human Resources. Since Sarah officially retired on December 31, 2023, and Shelly Page assumed the position on January 29, 2024, the Association will focus a fair amount of time guiding that transition in the first quarter of 2024. That effort will soon be followed by MMA’s process to recruit and onboard a replacement for David, who will close out his 39-year career in April.

Self-service Tools & Backoffice Operations. MMA’s modernized website has been well received and the feedback on the work accomplished by Risk Management Services to automate claim-related processes has been very positive. Demands for continued automation are likely to increase, and as a result, in 2024 staff will focus efforts on implementing the self-service tools necessary to help our members access resources throughout the day. Additional attention will be paid to the 13 Affiliate Group websites that MMA staff maintains, which are currently of varying quality. Because the work to maintain these sites is staff intensive, our goal is to work with the affiliate groups to migrate to a platform that is well integrated with the program currently used to support the MMA website. Additionally, Personify, the software used to maintain membership information and training records, as well as to manage billing operations for training and other membership programs, is currently fulfilling some, but not all, of the Association’s member relationship and engagement activities. The system lacks member self-service opportunities, some online payment options, and a module to help staff manage events, registration, and sponsorship programs. The first step in the process is to create an internal user group tasked with identifying system needs. With needs outlined, IT staff will evaluate Personify to see if we require updated software, system modifications, a new user interface, or an entirely different system that can meet the Association’s demands.
MMA Goals 2024

Building Maintenance Challenges. The Executive Committee has discussed, at length, the challenges associated with maintaining an aging building. As MMA’s office faces its 30th anniversary, improvements including upgrades to the heating/cooling system and roof repairs are becoming more urgent. The highest priority for the upcoming year is improvements to the heating/cooling system.

Member Engagement Efforts. Over the course of the new year, municipal leaders can expect MMA to continue to enhance and expand its training and educational programs, as well as to offer a slate of new member engagement opportunities. On the list for implementation throughout 2024 is the development of: (1) a new member engagement report to track and measure MMA staff interactions with municipal employees and leaders; (2) a member survey designed to determine how well MMA is performing and to discover how MMA staff can better serve and engage with its members; (3) two regional “Town Hall/MMA For A Day” events, held in strategic locations around the state the with purpose of providing a forum for officials to meet and connect with one another, and communicate directly with MMA representatives about their needs and concerns, learn about new MMA initiatives and participate in training; and (4) a more robust training program for newly elected officials and town and city managers.

Please look to the website (memun.org), publications, such as the Town & City magazine, MMA Today, and the RMS Express, press releases, as well as communications from MMA staff for updates on these efforts.
